

Dr. Jeremy Elliott is the Associate Dean of the College of Education and an Associate Professor at the University of Alabama in Huntsville. He is an alumnus of the Sport Instruction Research Lab at the University of Georgia where he received his Ph.D. in Kinesiology with an emphasis on Sport Pedagogy. He has been a member of NAKHE since 2018. In his time within the organization, he has participated in both the Department Head Certification Training program (earning his certificate in 2024) and the Leadership Mentor Program experience (2021). He currently serves on the Future Directions Committee and is the chair of the Leadership Mentor Program committee. Jeremy is also co-chair of hosting this year's Leadership Development Workshop in Huntsville, Alabama.